

[Your boss' name],

I am seeking your approval to attend the Infrastructure Investor Global Summit in Berlin from 17-20 March 2025. This premier event offers a unique platform to support our business objectives, enhance our industry profile, and deepen my expertise in infrastructure investment.

As the most significant global gathering of infrastructure investment leaders, this Summit will connect me with top decision-makers from pension funds, asset managers, developers, and policy influencers—an assembly rarely accessible in one setting. Participation in this event will be instrumental for achieving [mention specific project(s), goals, relationship-building, networking, or acquiring strategic insights]. It's important to consider the potential missed opportunities if our competitors gain these advantages while we do not.

Key Benefits of Attending the II Global Summit:

1. Expanding deal opportunities: With abundant high-level networking throughout the event, I'll gain access to senior leaders, enabling us to explore substantial business opportunities and partnerships. Many attendees report meaningful connections that later lead to high-impact collaborations and funding rounds.
2. Building strategic alliances: The Summit is a prime forum for engaging with established and emerging players, laying the groundwork for partnerships, collaborations, and new business avenues.
3. Enhancing our industry presence: Our presence at the Summit will elevate our brand visibility and showcase our leadership in infrastructure investment. This exposure places us in front of critical stakeholders and potential partners, reinforcing our role within the industry.
4. Gaining actionable insights: With presentations from renowned speakers and industry experts. I'll gain valuable perspectives and innovations to inform our strategies, keeping us aligned with industry advancements.

Summit Attendee Profile Highlights:

- 3000+ infrastructure industry players
- 750+ LP's
- 350+ speakers
- Loads of Networking Events
- Leading Speakers in Infrastructure
- Industry Media Coverage

Additionally, purchasing a pass early ensures we benefit from discounts, with further savings available for group bookings. After attending, I will be eager to share the key insights, takeaways, and opportunities with our team to inform our projects and strategies.

Thank you for considering this request. I look forward to your response.

Best regards,
