Japan Korea Week

Europe is still heavily impacted with geopolitical uncertainty after last year's turbulent elections and the region is still reeling from the macroeconomic headwinds that caused a higher cost of capital. However, real estate markets are bottoming out and green shoots of growth are now visible across select markets. Panelists will share insights into the strategies and approaches they expect will yield the best results amid the region's recovery.

12:05 Networking Lunch

13:15 Investor Panel: The evolution of Korean institutional investors – Lessons learnt & the road ahead

Korea's leading institutional investors share insight into their journey of overcoming market challenges, adapting their strategies, and what role real estate will continue to play in their portfolios in the years to come.

13:50 Panel: Cross-border capital flows – Targeting growth & returns in Trump's America

The U.S. real estate market offers both opportunities and complexities for global investors with Trump's second term in office. This panel examines how cross-border capital is engaging with key sectors, managing risks from fluctuating interest rates, inflation, and geopolitical uncertainties, and positioning for long-term growth and returns.
